"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

By Bill Gersh

UN-SCARING A SCARE

Contrary to what was published by The Billboard which also delves into this industry, among many others, and which appears in their July 24, 1943 issue, page 61, and contradicts what was published in their July 3, 1943 issue, page 59, we are now coldly, calmly and analytically reporting on OPA's Maximum Price Regulation 429, news of which we had been holding in abeyance since reading of it on July 15th, due to the fact that we were awaiting a more complete interpretation of this ruling to come out of Washington (as happens in almost all new OPA regulations) before even advising our many subscribers of its reference to this industry.

THIS IS THE PICTURE. The Office of Price Administration in releasing Maximum Price Regulation 429 proves that whoever wrote this regulation simply tacked the words "coin operated vending machines" onto this regulation as an afterthought at the end of a long list of items which include, shovels, wheelbarrows, hatchets, etc. Thruout this entire regulation OPA contradicts every possible belief that the members of this "service" industry come under this regulation referring to used consumer's durable goods.

The Cash Box has always, and will always, continue to bring to this industry messages as they apply to this industry and this industry only. Not just reports taken from some publicity release. Not just snap judgments. Not just a statement from something appearing in some newspaper. But, instead, a complete and clarified version to help the men engaged in this industry in all possible fashion. The Billboard ran this item (in their July 24th issue) without offering the members of this industry any explanation, any analysis, any clarification, nor any method of defense they could use should their local OPA offices use the same snap judgment.

Obtain a copy of MPR-429 from your local OPA offices. Turn to Page 3, Section 3, Part (4), and read:

> "Sales at wholesale. A sale at wholesale is a sale to a person who buys for the purpose of reselling the goods, rather than for use. Sales at wholesale remain covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation."

Follow along with us carefully. The OPA is interested in preventing inflationary prices to the consumer not only of new goods, but by this new regulation of certain "used" durable goods, too. The coin machines industry has NOT inflated prices to the consumer. Pin games still sell amusement for a 5¢ coin to the consumer. Merchandising machines selling cigarettes or candy or peanuts continue to sell within ceiling price to the consumer. A scale still weighs the consumer for a 1¢ coin. And so on and so forth down the line. Therefore the "consumer" (as we understand him to be as far as this industry is concerned) is NOT paying any inflated prices. And this, therefore, complies with the General Maximum Price Regulation covering consumer's goods and services.

This industry has an extremely peculiar merchandising set-up all its own. Its merchandising category is composed of distributors, jobbers and operators, who actually are all WHOLESALERS, for they are RESELLING THE GOODS. And, in this new MPR-429 OPA states that "WHOLESALERS ARE EXCLUDED". This, therefore, takes the members of this industry out of the classification of the persons and firms referred to in this new OPA regulation, according to the reasoning of a great many in this industry.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

The Billboard inferred that the operator was the "consumer" and therefore machines that would be sold to him would come under this regulation. We do not know where they obtained this interpretation. There is no such interpretation as far as OPA is concerned as yet in existence. If they stuck their noses into the hornet's nest and asked questions (provided they know the ins and outs of this industry and what to ask so as to understand what this industry requires) and have thereby obtained an interpretation from Prentiss M. Brown, Chief Administrator of OPA direct from his Washington headquarters, the trade should and would like to know all about it.

The operator, as far as this industry is concerned, is a WHOLESALER. This is in accordance with OPA's own interpretation of a "wholesaler" as reproduced herein in a former paragraph and as repeated here, "A sale at wholesale is a sale to a person who buys for the purpose of reselling the goods, rather than for use." That is exactly what the operators in the coin machines industry do. They buy for RESELLING. They resell the goods they buy to the public on the basis of a 1¢ or 5¢ or even 10¢ or 25¢ or 50¢ installment payment plan. Furthermore, they are not selling "goods" - they are instead actually selling a "service". An amusement service. Music, etc., etc., etc. (Remember that many rulings made by OPA have fallen by the wayside and that a great many amendments have also had to be made to certain regulations for OPA did not and still does not completely understand the inner workings of a great many industries, especially this one.)

We are of the belief that the reasoning which is being presented here will stand up. It is the true picture of the merchandising set-up in this industry regardless of how peculiar it may seem to the average business man connected with any other industry where wholesalers, retailers and consumers, such as in those industries selling hatchets, wheelbarrows, shovels, etc., to which this new regulation refers. But in the coin machines industry (after the product leaves the factory) the whole merchandising set-up is composed of wholesalers and WHOLESALERS ARE EXCEPTED FROM THIS REGULATION.

The distributor (when the factories are producing new machines) can be considered the "chief-wholesaler". The jobber may be the "sub-chief wholesaler". The operator is the "basic wholesaler". Each one buys for the purpose of eventually reselling. The distributors for the purpose of reselling to other distributors, jobbers and operators. The jobbers for reselling. The operators for reselling, too, and with the retailer as his partner, the operator (for a short time) resells on a peculiar installment basis to the public (the "consumer") his amusemnt or vending service.

To completely assure himself (after September 1, 1943) the seller of a machine can write across the bill of sale "FOR RESALE". This, in itself, is a very pertinent fact. A machine shipped to someone a thousand miles away (or even 10 miles away) CAN BE FOR RE-SALE. Eventually that person would resell it. OPA may try to prove that the operator is the "consumer" or may even so declare and let this industry prove otherwise. The burden of proof will have to rest on whether the operator can be the consumer when, after a period of time has elapsed, he resells the machine he originally purchased (not trades it in). In that case the operation of the machine (with the retailer as his partner) and provided that the machine is considered legal by the courts in that district, could be considered the same as in storage-as it would for the retailer or wholesaler during the interim when it was being operated prior to the time when the operator sold it.

OPA may rule and can rule (in an amendment to this regulation) that if the operator buys the machine and places it on a location for a certain definite period of time (30 or 60 or 90 days) he is to be considered the "consumer" and when he "resells" the machine, after that period, he then becomes a "wholesaler". But, that would be contradicting themselves on the idea of what a wholesaler is, according to OPA's own version of a wholesaler. The federal government issues its license for machines to the location owner. They do not, by this action, recognize the operator. Therefore, according to this judgment, the operator must be a wholesaler for he is bringing something to the retailer who is the one recognized in this instance as the vender of a service.

By this line of reasoning the reader will understand how complicated the entire situation becomes when OPA in any fashion whatsoever attempts to classify the operator as the "consumer". In this industry, and looking at it from the standpoint of what a wholesaler is in all other industry, the operator is a "wholesaler" of a service, pure and simple. Another thing, MPR-429 as we stated before, refers to "consumer's used durable goods" which can be purchased (such as a hatchet or a wheelbarrow or a shovel among other products mentioned in this regulation) and can actually be "used". But in the case of a coin machine there is nothing that can be "used" on this same basis, as a hatchet or shovel or wheelbarrow. The coin machine simply vends a service. Therefore, by any stretch of the imagination, the coin machines industry (if any price ceilings are to be set) will have to come under regulations adopted for a special service industry of this kind and not for a durable goods industry, especially in view of the fact that wholesalers are excluded as in the case of this regulation 429.

"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

Our suggestion is not to get flustered. As yet there has been no interpretation as to what this regulation has to do with coin machines from the standpoint that it eliminates wholesalers. Since many maintain that this industry is entirely composed of wholesalers a great many problems will yet arise prior to any interpretation being issued by OPA from its Washington headquarters. Local offices of OPA may be giving interpretations of their own, because they may have been approached by many men in this industry since the appearance of this first item about MPR-429 in The Billboard and may even have caused many complications. But these local interpretations, if the picture is brought to the local OPA offices as it is presented here, will, to say the least, be varied and confusing. The best thing for the men in this industry to do at this time is to await the interpretation which will come out of Washington's OPA headquarters.

We have come a long way in the coin operated machines industry and have seen a great many puzzling problems come and be solved by the ingenuity and the intelligence of the men engaged in this industry. We have complete faith in these men. We believe that once again they can point the way (and this time probably to OPA) that if OPA is so intent on creating ceiling prices for this industry (which hasn't inflated its charges to the public one bit) that it create that ceiling for pricos as of September 1, 1943 (not of March 1942) and that this remain the ceiling from now until the war is won. OPA is definitely not out to work a hardship on this or any other industry. It was created for a very fine and definite purpose. It can continue its work more successfully and keep men's minds from evasions and mischievous courses by cooperating with an industry to the fullest possible extent - and that is just what OPA wants to do.

Back in our June 29, 1943 issue we mention that OPA was seeking "Advisory Boards" from all industries. We asked that this industry get together to appoint such a board to work with OPA for the benefit of this industry. This should have been instantly done. But, like all other matters in this business, it seems that to get most busy coinmen together, one must do so with a lot of other ideas in view prior to gaining the necessary attention to do the right thing at the right and preventative time.

Again we believe this to be the time to remind this industry of something that is a desperate need and for which The Cash Box has been crusading for many, many long months. A National Coin Machines Board of Trade could most definitely have prevented this scare. Such an organization would instantly have contacted OPA's Washington headquarters and have obtained an interpretation if this was at all necessary. A National Coin Machines Board of Trade would have been on the ground floor and would have, in all probabilities, eliminated any fright because that would be its job. That is why this industry so sorely needs a National Coin Machines Board of Trade. Such an organization would probably have been called in by OPA as an "Advisory Board" even prior to placing the words "coin operated vending machines" into this regulation. Once again The Cash Box strongly urges the members of this industry to get together thru this, its confidential weekly, and arrange to create a National Coin Machines Board of Trade for its future better welfare.

AIRWAY, introduced by Bally at the 1933 Coin Machine Show, enjoyed a record-smashing international success as the fore-runner of Bally's famous ROCKET automatic-award game.

Bally BUILT "AIRWAY" IN '33

AND BUILDS AIRCRAFT EQUIPMENT IN '43

Remember AIRWAY? And the excitement AIRWAY created at the 1933 Show? The brilliant novelty of AIRWAY ball-traps? The sensational AIRWAY totalizer? The spectacular success of AIRWAY on location?

Today the Bally organization, which created and built AIRWAY, is building aircraft equipment for America's fighting flyers . . . equipment which contributes to the deadly efficiency of American battle-planes and speeds the day of victory.

You, too, can speed the day of victory and hasten America's return to peace and prosperity . . . to the AIRWAYS, BUMPERS and BALLYHOOS of the future. Buy War Bonds today, tomorrow, every day—10 per cent plus!

Operators and distributors who want early information on Bally's post-war equipment . . . games that will bring back the boom days of Ballyhoo and Bumper . . . vending machines that will open vast new opportunities . . . are urged to place their name on a special mailing list now being compiled for Bally's Post-War Flash No. 1.

IMPORTANT

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the week; Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for each week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc.,must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.
